

Checking in, creating, joining and reporting a match

Starting Information

Each round of the competition, each team will be required to: check in, create or join a game, and report the scores for your match on start.gg. This is a comprehensive guide on how you will accomplish these things on game day.

Any player from the team can complete these tasks on start.gg, however we recommend that the Team Captain should be responsible for such tasks.

Viewing your games

To view your upcoming games, you will be required to go to the event page on start.gg. Please take notice of the start time and the Auto-DQ time.

Creating a game (Orange Team)

The first listed team or the 'Away Team' are assigned to the Orange Team, and will be responsible for creating the game. This will involve checking in first on start.gg, where you will receive a name and password to create the game with.

Creating a game on Rocket League (Orange Team)

Once you've checked in on start.gg and received the game information, you will then boot up Rocket League to create a game. To create a game, you will go to 'Play' > 'Custom Games' > 'Private Match', then you will enter these settings:

- Game Mode: Soccer
- Default Arena: DFH Stadium
- Team Size: 3 v 3
- Bot Difficulty: No Bots
- Region: Oceania
- Mutators: Set Series Length to 3 Games
 - All other mutator settings set to default.
- Match Time: 5 Minutes
- Lobby Name and Password: Refer to start.gg

Please ensure that when you join, you do not join your assigned teams until all players join the game.

Joining a game (Blue Team)

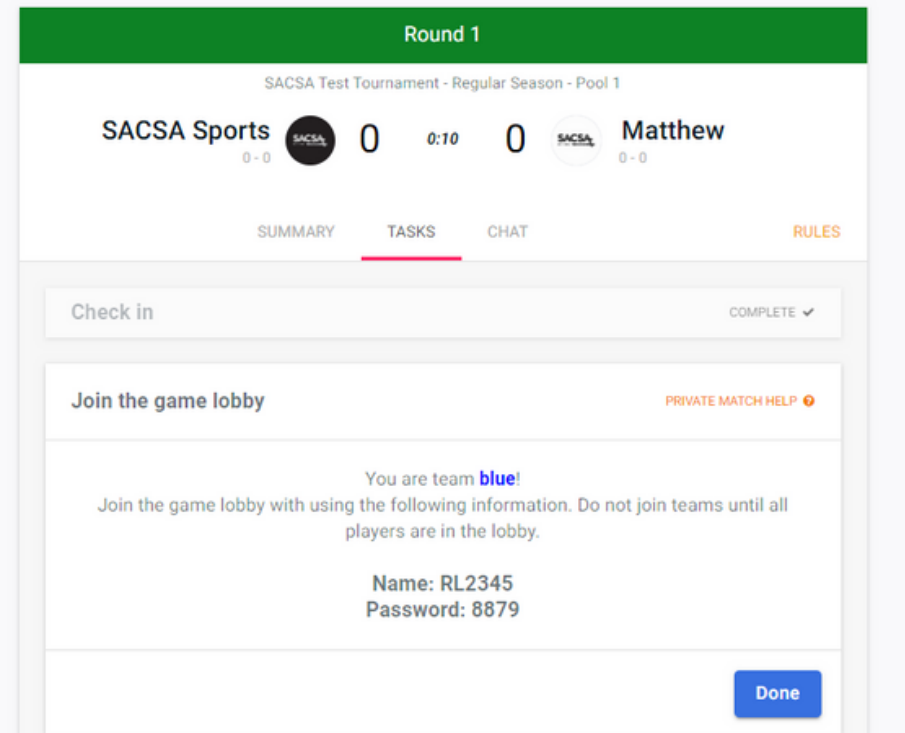

The second listed team or the 'Away Team' are assigned to the Blue Team, and will join the game after the game is created by the Home Team. You will use the details provided by start.gg to join the game.

Please ensure that when you join, you do not join your assigned teams until all players join the game.

Reporting scores for a game

At the end of all games in the match, both teams will need to input and confirm the scores. Start.gg has an automated 'fetch game data' which fetches the game data if the correct lobby name and password have been used. Ensure all games of the series have been played before fetching the data.

If the game data cannot be fetched, you will need to report the scores manually for each game. To do this, click 'Report manually'.

Confirming manual game results

After the manual input of game results, each team will be required to confirm results. The team will be given the option to dispute the results if they are incorrect, and input their own with a screenshot. We recommend that the winning team has a screenshot of their match results so that they have evidence of their win.

Disputes

All disputes will be investigated by the SACSA Sports Administrator.

Any dispute raised may result in disciplinary action for the offending team submitting an unreasonable dispute, or inputting incorrect scores for a game.

Confirming overall match results

Once scores have been inputted, each team is required to confirm the overall result of the match/series taken place (as matches will mostly consist of best of 3 games).

After this, the game will look as shown, stating the final scores for the game. If anything arises, you are still able to upload images to provide evidence.
